Finding high quality childcare can be a stressful situation for families. With so many options and information surrounding childcare how can I make the best decision for my family?

Quality childcare can come in several forms including Licensed Centre Based Child Care, Licensed Home Child Care, and Unlicensed Home Child Care.

Licensed Child Care Centres operate in a variety of forms including nursery school, school age programs, full day, part day or extended day care for children aged 0-12 years. These Centres are monitored by The Ministry of Education and the local Health Unit based on provincial health, safety and caregiver training regulations. Licensed Home Child Care is provided in a caregiver's home and provides care for children aged 0-12 years. Licensed agencies contract individual caregivers who use their own homes to look after children. Agency caregivers are screened, approved and monitored by Home Visitors who work for the Home Care Agency. The Ministry of Education also monitors these Home Child Care providers and Home Visitors.

Unlicensed Home Child Care involves private arrangements between the caregiver and families. They consist of a caregiver who looks after five or fewer children under the age of 10 and do not have to be licensed. The Ministry of Education does not monitor these caregivers therefore they do not have to meet any provincial health, safety or caregiver training standards.

When looking for any form of quality childcare there are some key characteristics to look for:

- the relationships between the children and caregivers
- the physical setting includes a wide variety of age appropriate materials
- Community and family involvement is evident
- Families are encouraged to visit the location at anytime
- Programs support a wide range of experiences

High quality child care is built on a foundation of education and trust where the common goal is to support the overall growth of each individual child. The groundwork for quality child care is deeply rooted in caregivers who support a child's emotional, social, intellectual and physical well being.

Welcome

Spring is in the air

ONTARIO EARLY YEARS CENTRE ELGIN-MIDDLESEX-LONDON

Spring is in the air! Our children are more than ready to burn off their spring fever and sometimes Mother Nature does not allow them to play outside due to inclement weather. This is where some of our programs come into action. There are many indoor programs offered when it is just too wet for your children to play outside. There are outreach programs that have bikes and active equipment to use. First United playgroup is based around active movement and play, while Shedden, Dorchester and Lambeth have big gyms and a combination of floor toys. Please check out our playgroups and outreaches for more information.

If you have a little one that starts school in September you should check out Ready!Set!School!. This workshop will run March 12, 14 and 16, 2012 in our main playroom from 9am-10am. Please call to register.

Please note that we will be running a registered program every Wednesday in April in our main play room. We will still be running programs but only in our Art room - this may be a good time to check out an outreach location.
